Fair use of Bandwidth and System Resources

Bandwidth allocation and server processor, disk and memory resources are finite. XSecHosting operates a fair usage policy, and may implement the policy to its sole discretion: When a website is found to be monopolising the resources available, the account holder(s) will be contacted in order to discuss the situation. If no arrangement can be reached, XSecHosting reserves the right to terminate the account.

Backups

Ultimately each account holder is responsible for their own content, email and or any other data stored on the XSecHosting Servers. Web site backups are expected to be kept 'off server' by the account holder(s). CMS databases are backed up nightly and made available to the account holder(s) for download.

While server backups are done nightly to disk, final content responsibility is with the account holder(s). In the rare event of all disks failing. XSecHosting will contact the account holder(s), advise of the situation and the requirements for site/service restoration.

XSecHosting reserves the right to cancel services at any time. In this event any associated domain names will either be TAG transferred back to the originating naming authority e.g Nominet UK or transferred to another TAG holder at the request of the account holder.

During which any associated domain names will either be TAG transferred back to the originating naming authority e.g Nominet UK or transferred to another TAG holder at the request of the account holder. Transfers to/from our TAG are not charged by XSecHosting however any costs relating to 3rd parties (eg previous registrar) are to be met by the registrant..
